

Juan has worked at the bench with Barbara since he first made contact with her at a high school workshop. Eleven years of training and skill sharing have led to his present status within the group as production manager, Barbara adds that "as he can do almost everything better than me now" he should move on to becoming the MYOB expert and eventually just run the show!

production manager

juan luis gonzalez

jeweller

